THE STUDENT'S

PALI-ENGLISH DICTIONARY.

BY

MAUNG TIN, M.A.,

PROFESSOR OF PALI, RANGOON COLLEGE.

BRITISH BURMA PRESS, RANGOON.

1920.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

For this reprint of the Student's Pali - English Dictionary, first published in 1920, I wish to thank the Breezewood Foundation, Hess Road, Monkton, Maryland, United States of America, for suggesting the publication and for its generosity in financing it.

Pe Maung Tin
(Professor Dr. Pe Maun Tin, M.A., D. Litt.
Chairman, the Historical Commission,
University Estate, Rangoon.)

PREFACE.

This Dictionary is intended mainly for students in Burma. As I have aimed at confining the maximum of matter in the minimum of space, I have not made any reference to sanskrit forms. And the arrangement of words has been guided less by philological connections than by practical considerations, and the abbreviation signs have enabled me to save space by grouping together under one heading many words which might otherwise have required separate lines.

I have derived much benefit from Childers's Dictionary, the list of Pali Words beginning with S and H in the Journals of the Pāli Text Society for 1907 and 1909, Andersen's Glossary to his Pāli Reader, Ledi Pandita's Pali-Burmese Dictionary.

RANGOON COLLEGE,
